Project Summary

- The Historical Commission would like to undertake a restoration of the “Victory” statue located at 0 Otis Street, also known as Victory Park, overlooking Hingham Bathing Beach and historic Hingham Harbor. Designed by Theo Kitson and her daughter, also named Theo, the statue is made of cast bronze and was dedicated in 1929 as a tribute to Hingham’s veterans. The statue is also known as the “Soldiers and Sailors of All Wars Memorial” and locally as the “Iron Horse.” The statue depicts a young male equestrian figure holding a torch in his right hand and a palm frond in his left. A shield hangs on his back and a sword in a scabbard rests on his left hip. Due to its prominent location along Route 3A and Hingham Harbor, the Victory statue is Hingham’s most heroic and visible war memorial. The statue is individually listed on the Town of Hingham’s Historical Inventory and is located in the Lincoln Historic District.

Project Summary

- Due to its coastal location, the surface of the statue has deteriorated over the years. The surface was last re-coated in 2017. The estimated lifespan of the coating is eight years, so the statue is due for treatment at this time. The proposed treatment will also address vandalism that has taken place. Over the years, people have carved names into the surface of the statue in a number of places. In 2024, graffiti was applied to the statue. The graffiti was removed by a conservationist, who recommended the surface should be restored.

Project Summary

- The project scope will include:
  - A thorough documentation of current conditions
  - Installation of a temporary construction fence around the statue
  - A thorough cleaning of the statue to include removal of degraded coating
  - Stabilization of active corrosion
  - Polishing of the surface to remove scratches
  - Application of a hand-rubbed patina
  - Application of a protective wax coating
  - A written and photographic report detailing the treatment upon completion

Project Summary

- The primary stakeholders are the residents of Hingham, but the restoration of this memorial will benefit all visitors to the Hingham Bathing Beach, Hingham Harbor, and all those passing through this well-travelled section of Route 3A. The restoration of the statue will also benefit Hingham's many veterans of all the armed forces. It's Hingham's duty to keep this stately memorial in good condition so that it survives for many years to come.
